PILOTS' WILL

I, Brenda Ajaski, leave all colorguard problems to Kim Labbe, and my special memories to Kup!!
 I, Cathy Antonacci, leave my "H" shoes to "E. B." Malone and my brother to J.O'B.
 I, Robyn Armstrong, leave the poor salamander I drowned in formaldehyde to Mrs. Sharis.
 I, Mary-Beth Army, leave to a deserving underclassman, the rank of PI that J.M. and I shared for 4 years.
 I, Cindy Attenello, leave better times for my sister Pattie.
 I, Kim Avery, leave all my excuses to Mr. A.
 I, Sheila Barry, leave all the good times in Foods to Joey.
 I, Allen Bartley, leave all the Band paperwork to some unwitting future band officer.
 I, Paul Belanger, leave Mr. Stine my beeeple weeples.
 I, Bob Beltrandi, leave Pat Scelza to find an able offensive tackle who can execute the 243 counter-tackle trap. Good luck, Woz!
 I, Michelle Bertrand, leave all Thursday nights to Debby T. and anyone who is as crazy as I am to share them with her.
 I, Pam Biggs, leave all my good times to my kids and Sheri.
 I, Melissa Blevins, leave Windsor Locks, still trying to convince Laura McGee that Are You Sitting Down is not a movie.
 I, Karen Bloomquist, leave still trying to convince G.Z., M.U., and R.R. that I am not in the sixth dimension.
 I, Terri Borchetta, leave my "eye" to Colleen Sullivan.
 I, Debbie Boucher, leave Mint Coolers to anyone with an "upset stomach." Remember that, Laura?
 I, Kathy Bouffard, leave K.F., C.P., E.S., and so many others to return to the civilized world; and yes, Mrs. C., we can handle it.
 I, Lisa Bout, leave gladly with Corinne and Andrea.
 I, David Bracken, leave Debbie's car alone before I smash it again.
 I, Tracy Byczko, leave for the last time with Wendy and Janice in the back of the Boo-Boo truck.
 I, Danny Callahan, leave my study habits and academic ability to Paul.
 I, Cindy Campisi, leave Kathy Harrigan the little hotdogs from the party at Cathy Patti's.
 I, Mark Carragher, leave the Carragher Dynasty behind so that the vice-principal can cherish the memories.
 I, Mark Caruso, leave my offensive charges to anyone who can handle them.
 I, David Chalifoux, leave all my garbageman jokes to Mr. Hajosy.
 I, Lori Chapman, leave the "D" in the capable feet of my sister, Tammy.
 I, Annette Clements, leave all my wood chippings to Mr. Thibodeau.
 I, Lisa Corbin, leave never to come back.
 I, Anne Cordiliko, leave never to march again in the Southington Parade with Mr. Rinaldi. Right, Brenda?
 I, Danny Cordiliko, leave forgetting my senior year football season.
 I, Kim Curry (Dewey), leave my tricycle to Unca Donald.
 I, Diane Czupryna, leave Spring Pond to Randy and his next year's Rangers.
 I, Tammy Daury, leave passing out the attendance to anyone who has enough energy to do it.
 I, Donna DeLisle, leave my broken ruler in Accounting to Lynn Holcomb.
 I, Lori DePoutot, leave still not knowing who has the original copy of a four-page note I wrote in my freshman year.
 I, Corinne Dombroski, leave gladly with Lisa and Andrea.
 I, Rich Dombrowski, leave the First Annual, wondering whatever happened to the Second Annual.
 I, Hugh Donagher, leave my permanent pass out of study to Guidance, to my sister, Krista.
 I, Sandy Doustou, leave Mary-Beth fond memories of potato chip and radishes.

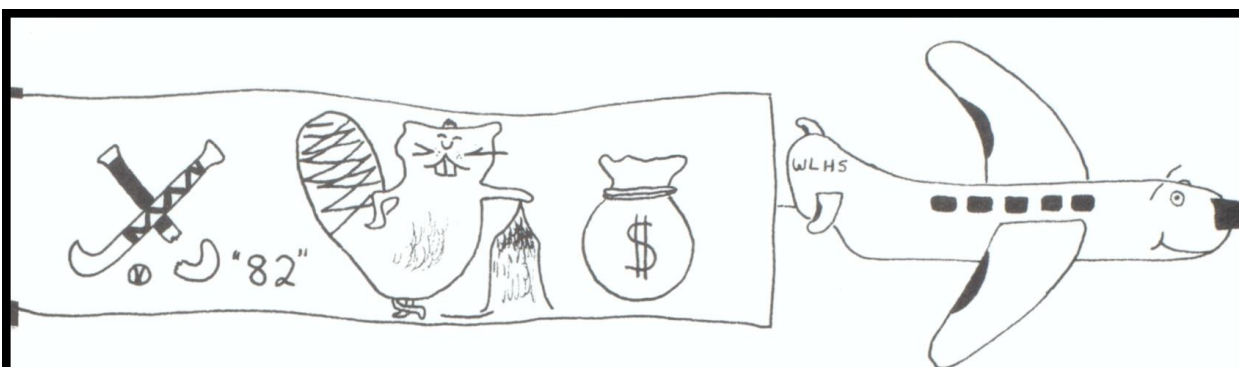

I, Michael DuPont, leave my Physics book to any kid crazy enough to take it.
 I, Janice Evans, leave Mr. Oliva's Law class, still talking to Tracy and Wendy.
 I, Tammy Fargo, leave W.L.H.S., smarter than when I came.
 I, Joe Fitz, leave knowing Susanne will take care of the clarinets and Paul M. won't be able to take care of the percussion section!
 I, Laurie Frechette, leave Windsor Locks High School, trying to forget.
 I, Denise Gagne, leave Mr. Oliva's C Channel Class, waiting for another message, and wondering if the messenger knows about the mystery flower.
 I, Robert Goulet, leave W.L.H.S. Class of '82 with many good memories and good luck to the Class of '83.
 I, Diane Grandahl, leave my books, papers, and pencils to my brother Jimmy, in hopes that he will make better use of them than I did.
 I, Lori Grayson, leave L.T. with a tongue-in-cheeker, and Coach Collins with good watermelon candies, to survive.
 We, Debbie Gross, Kate Johnson, and Lisa Taravella, leave all our bizz buzz games to Mr. Purinton.
 I, Jay Hannon, leave, wondering why I ever wanted to organize the Senior Ski Trip.
 I, Kathy Harrigan, leave Be-Wild Blvd., explosions, and the puppets with Mac.
 I, Gerald Hebert, leave Mr. Borchetta elevator shoes and a full head of hair.
 I, Kenny Hebert, leave the playing of Pomp and Circumstance to the underclassmen, finally.
 I, Paula Hillery, leave my voice at the basketball games and the Alaskan Pipeline to Joanne.
 I, Beth Hoyt, leave my shyness to anyone who wants it.
 I, Jimmy Johnson, leave practicing my East Lyme shot.
 I, Phyllis Jones, leave many misspelled but choice words on all those "!!" typewriters.
 I, Penny Kane, leave typing Mr. Rinaldi's concert programs to Mrs. Carroll and some undeserving freshman.
 I, Wendy Katz, leave Mr. Oliva on the verge of insanity after putting up with Tracy, Janice and me for two years in a row.
 I, Larry Kellogg, leave still wondering when Mr. Flaherty will correct our tests.
 I, David Kingsbury, leave my Chemistry notes to be burned in the school furnace.
 I, Michael Kowalski, leave with my tires burning and my horn blasting.
 I, Liz Kryszpin, leave my lemonade to M.S., my ring to S.T., the upkeep of my appetite to S.M., and to Mr. Flaherty I leave my sister, so that he may have another year of Kryszpin joy.
 I, Laurie Kupec, leave still fighting for the E.R.A. and against male chauvinism.
 I, Brad LaBree, leave turning up the radio in Mr. Hajosy's class to any underclassman.
 I, Michelle Lacasse, leave my boring classes to all the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors who have yet to learn the meaning of headache.
 I, Colleen LaRoche, leave this school for good.
 I, Jim LaTorra, leave this school to party.
 I, Tammy LaValley, leave my pillow to anyone in I.S.R. who is worthy of it.
 I, Phil LeMay, leave D period in Guidance to any qualified underclassman.
 I, Court Lescell, leave my CVB insignias on the walls of W.L.H.S.
 I, Duane Letendre, leave this high school, never to swim again.
 I, Martha Loncar, leave all my doctor's notes to Mr. A.
 I, John Loughran, leave the bass trombone to any underclassman stupid enough to play it.
 I, Matt Loveland, leave the hassles of the school behind.

- I, Kim Ludden, leave still not knowing why teachers are so determined to teach English Literature . . . Good Luck and be ready, Glen!!!
- I, Lisa MacDougald, leave all my cheerleading experience to my sister, Gail.
- I, John Malec, leave the lighting board at the mercy of the students in A.V.
- I, Pam Mancarella, leave my unspoken confusions and frustrations behind.
- I, Melissa Mandy, leave the answers on page 274 in the Algebra I book to my sister, Lisa.
- I, Carol Manning, leave a fat lip to the next person who asks, "Who's Gordon?"
- I, Dave Mathvink, leave my Alg. II class to anyone who can understand what Mr. Beaudry is saying.
- I, Tom Matteson, leave all my free periods to anyone who can outrun Mr. Anastasia.
- I, Dennis McCarthy, leave Bunson Honeydew to anyone else who despises the Fuzz-Head.
- I, Kelly McDermott, leave my O.O.C. Silent Screams to Maureen, and the other half of our locker to Morf.
- I, Laura McGee, leave remembering all the good times with the AC/DC's and the Crashers. Thanks B.D.!
- I, Jimmy McKinstry, leave first period study to Brian Zaine.
- I, Mary-Ann McMullen, leave Be-Wild Blvd, explosions, and puppets with Kathy.
- I, Mary McNamara, leave all my money to Tommy.
- I, Timmy McSweeney, leave very happy, knowing I'll never have to come back.
- I, Terrie Michaud, leave with the confidence that the Class of '83 will come close to meeting the standards of the Class of '82.
- I, Maria Montecalvo, leave all of the tables in the cafeteria for Joey Grieco to draw on.
- I, Tim Moran, leave with great pleasure all my troubles and hassles to anyone crazy enough to take them.
- I, Billy Morello, leave this school for the last time with my friends in the Silver Streak.
- I, Jody Morganson, leave Mr. Beaudry's written experiences for the last time.
- I, Karen Morin, leave Mr. Anastasia's tie for another senior to strangle him with.
- I, Terry Murcier, leave all of my cigarettes to Mrs. Carroll.
- I, Sue Murray, leave Windsor Locks High School, being able to pronounce Induvalistic (Individualistic) and the Herald staff still laughing.
- I, Greg Nolan, leave my reverse gear in the back parking lot.
- I, Cheryl Noyes, leave my list of bribes to anyone else who desperately needs points in Mrs. Fitzgerald's Steno II class.
- I, Ed Nyquist, leave a box of Russell Stover chocolate covered cherries to Mrs. Carroll and her friend, Beau.
- I, Jay Oliva, leave my fuzzy-wuzzy cottontail to the next devoted janitor at Windsor Locks High School.
- I, Lisa Oliva, leave B and C lunch to Annemarie K., if she can stand the boredom.
- I, Cheryl Paine, leave Brenda McAdorey behind to follow.
- I, Ken Palmer, leave.
- I, Debbie Panecasio, leave Windsor Locks High School, very willingly.
- I, Kathy Pashos, leave Shirley C., Sue, and all the excellent times to anyone who can live up to and afford them.
- I, Catherine Patti, leave W.L.H.S., on a plane to California with Mac for a wild vacation.
- I, John Pavlik, leave W.L.H.S. in my Challenger to challenge the world.
- I, Sue Peacock, leave my nasal twang to Mr. Gatto, and my green pen to Mr. Beaudry.
- I, Marie Peluso, leave, remembering that there is life after swim team.
- I, Suzanne Pigeon, leave Shirley C. and all the excellent times with Kathy to anyone who can live up to and afford them.

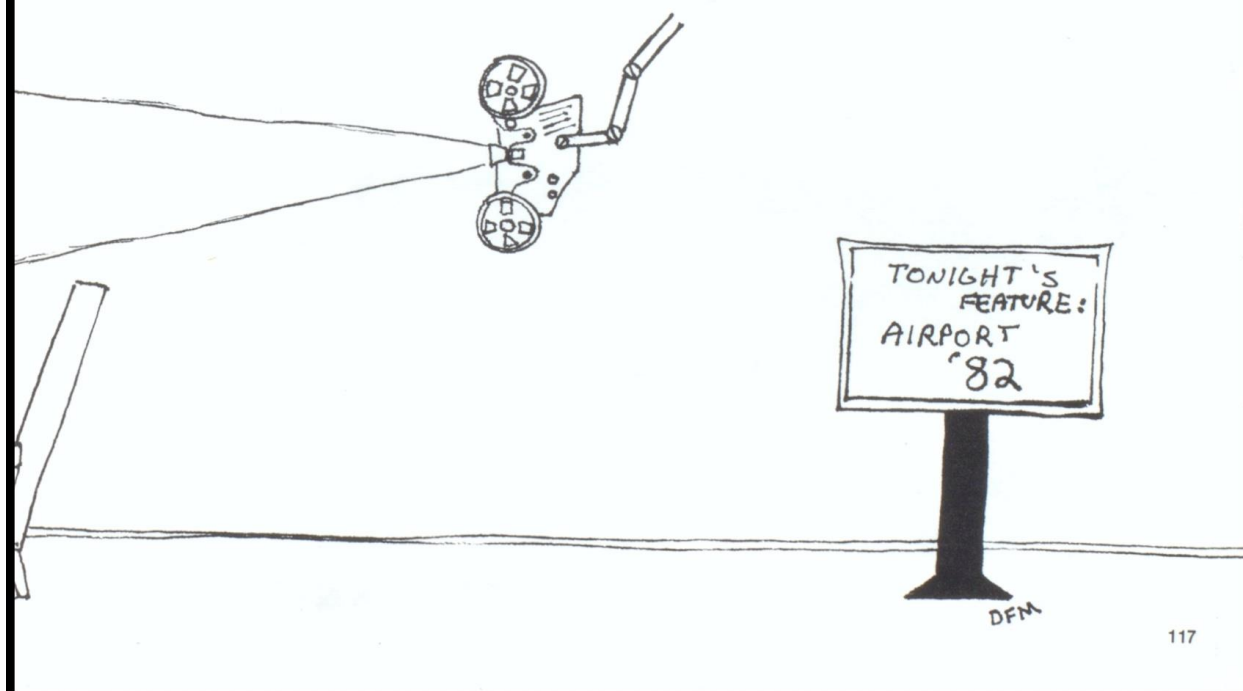

- I, Chris Price, leave Leslie to rule the school.
- I, Pamela Quinn, leave my pool hours to anyone who can endure that much chlorine.
- I, Kimberly Reid, leave a dozen daisies to Mr. Harutunian and HE KNOWS WHY!
- I, Sean Riddell, leave Mr. McKeown "da stuff."
- I, Chris Roberts, leave Mr. A. one more Roberts to go.
- I, Ken Rosa, leave my nurse's uniform to anyone who has the guts to wear it.
- I, Susan Santamaria, leave Monday's and Friday's group at the board to my sister, Linda.
- I, Kim Sargent, leave my position in the Medley Relay, the 100 Back, and the 100 Fly to Chicken Legs.
- I, Cindy Saukis, leave hoping all my dreams will come true.
- I, Suzanne Shea, leave my ingenious brain to some unfortunate senior who did not make it this year.
- I, Andrea Sirois, leave gladly with Lisa and Corinne.
- I, Holly Skinner, leave knowing that there are still more Skinners to come. (Good luck to Paul and Jim!)
- I, Karen Skrabal, leave my seat in the ISR to my brother, Johnny.
- I, Susie Soovajian, leave my indelible handprint on Mr. P's chalkboard, for him to remember me by.
- I, Denis Soucy, leave my car to anyone who can finish it.
- I, Paula Spencer, leave very quickly and with good luck wishes to Lori Turek.
- I, Linda Sproul, leave poor Danny with no one to beat up on.
- I, Daniel Squires, leave being one of the few who knows the real Picasso.
- I, Daniel Stanton, leave my C.V.C. Leading Scorer title to Pauly Callahan and spread outs to any one willing to play soccer at W.L.H.S.
- I, Ed Staron, leave Mrs. Carroll's tires untouched — for now!
- I, Karen Starr, leave a ribbon of happiness and a rainbow of success to Kim Ferris and Lynn Noyes.
- I, Elaine Stokes, leave Leslie to rule the school.
- I, Mary Stroud, leave Petunia (pmb) to L.B. and J.G. and vice-versa, to keep up all the fun we had in E study.
- I, Lisa Tambussi, leave my broken field hockey stick to anyone who can use it.
- I, Antoinette Taylor, leave my knowledge and wisdom to all the W.L.H.S. underclassmen.
- I, Joyce Tennant, leave this place at last, hoping John will take the Beavers with him.
- I, Karen Thresher, leave Mrs. Sharis' F channel Biology II class to any hard-working underclassmen with an appetite.
- I, Jay Toohey, leave knowing Tony won't make it out in less than five years.
- I, Richard Tracy, leave my smelly gym socks to Coach Johnson.
- I, Lynne Veit, leave having been S.Z.'s lab partner for three years without blowing up the Science wing.
- I, Maryann Waterschoot, leave Windsor Locks High School with a great sigh of relief!
- I, Kristine M. Wenc, leave with a final good-bye from the end of the line (the Wenc line, that is.)
- I, Robert Wichniewicz, leave my A.V. tools to Nelson M.
- I, David Williams, leave my Olds 442 to anyone who can catch it!
- I, Stephen Wojtas, leave Mr. Buckley's homework policy to Joanne Kryszpin.
- I, Kim Yates, leave all my grades to anyone who would like them in the remaining years.
- I, Cathy Zaloga, leave the class of 1982 with only M.L. and I knowing who the "real" Flame is, right M.L.?
- I, Dawn Zaugg, leave all my class skipping to Mary Moran.
- I, Susan Zordrager, leave with a $2,000 smile!
